A. Conclusion

This research was conducted to find out whether there is a significant correlation between students' reading English habit and their reading comprehension or not. Based on what had been discussed, presented and analyzed in the previous chapters, the writer concludes that:

1. The tenth grade students' reading English habit at Vocational High School Dwi Sejahtera Pekanbaru is categorized into enough level.
2. The tenth grade students' reading comprehension at Vocational High School Dwi Sejahtera Pekanbaru is categorized into enough level.
3. There is a significant correlation between students' reading English habit and reading comprehension of tenth grade student at Vocational High School Dwi Sejahtera Pekanbaru.

B. Suggestion

Seeing all the explanation and the conclusion above, the writer intends to give some suggestion related to English teaching learning as well as the future studies. Firstly, for the teachers should give more attention and motivate the students to upgrade their reading habit. The teachers should also give the suggestion and input about students' reading, so they will know their weaknesses in reading comprehension. Considering this view, hopefully that the students as readers will read more English books and comprehend more appropriately. Secondly, the writer advises the students that they should be aware of the importance of reading habit which is not only focusing on reading their English handbook but also other kinds of English books. In other words, the students can practice with other kinds of English books or texts to improve their reading comprehension. The last suggestion was for the further researchers. They are expected to conduct a research that has similar type as this research with greater population in order to gain a wider generalization.
