This research was conducted based on students' problem in speaking. Therefore, this research was aimed to investigate whether there was significant effect of using Hot Seat Strategy in enhancing students' speaking skills. This research had two variables, Hot Seat Strategy as an independent variable and students' speaking skills as a dependent variable. This research was a quasiexperimental research. The researcher selected two classes from the population by using cluster random sampling technique; experimental class and control class. There were 65 students as sample out of 76 students. In collecting the data, the writer used speaking test. In analyzing the data, the researcher used descriptive statistic and independent sample t-test formula calculated by using SPSS 23 version continued by using eta square formula. The result of data analysis showed that there is a significant effect of using Hot Seat Strategy on students' Speaking skills, in which the Sig (2-tailed) 0.035 had less value than 0.05. Thus, H<sub>a</sub> is accepted and H<sub>o</sub> is rejected. Furthermore, there is a significant effect of using the Hot Seat Strategy in enhancing the students' Speaking skills at SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru, in which the result of eta squared was 0.07.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A: Background of the Problem

In learning English there are four skills which the students should master at the end of the learning process they are listening, speaking, reading, and writing. In listening, the students hear the words. In speaking, the students utter words. In Reading, the students read words. In writing, the students write word. All of the four skills must be learned simultaneously.

Speaking is an interaction between the speaker and listener where the aims are to deliver speakers' information or intention during the conversation. When people start to speak, it means they want to deliver or share their ideas to others. Brown.et al, (2005) stated that speaking is oral interaction where participants need to negotiate meaning of ideas, feeling and information.

SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru is one of the State Senior High Schools in Pekanbaru that applies 2013 Curriculum (K13). This school used it as a guidance in teaching and learning process including English subject. The students learn English twice a week with 45 minutes for one learning hour. In English subject syllabus, students are expected to master four language skills, which are Speaking, Listening, Writing and Reading.

According to 2013 curriculum, a student is considered success in passing the English subject if he/she reaches the minimum standard criteria score (KKM) determined by each school. For 2018/2019 academic year, Sma Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru determines 77 for the English KKM which means that a students have to achieve at least 77 in order to pass the English subject. For majority of the students especially who occupy the eleventh grade of this school, teaching the stated passing score is not easy though the materials or the topics provided in the curriculum have been delivered within the time limit.

Based on the researcher's experience during her teaching practice in the school, it is found that most of the students still get problems in achieving the KKM especially in speaking English. To find out the students' problems, the researcher conducted a preliminary study through a survey by interviewing some students in the class. Based on the result of the interview with the students, the researcher found that students poor and cannot use English in short conversation.

Commonly, when they speak English they have no idea about what they are going to say then they take so much time to think. Some of them did not say anything because having less confidence of their own skill and worry about getting wrong then they were laughed by others. The conditions of teaching learning were not active, and especially the students look less enthusiastic in learning English further in speaking. Many factors can cause the problem of the students' speaking ability, among others the students interest, the material, the media, and the technique in teaching English. In SMA Taruna Mandiri the English teacher tought the students traditionally (teacher centered) which make teacher more active than students. Thus, this technique made the teaching learning process less communicative. It is not effective technique in teaching speaking, monotonous in learning, and cannot facilitate students to use the language as means of communication.

In language teaching, it is teacher's responsibility to choose and apply the appropriate technique in order the students become active and creative in communication. Appropriate teaching strategy can influence students' in English especially in speaking.

Hot seating, as a strategy, works for many reasons as weekly routine, it takes little preparation or explanation while serving as a way to hold students accountable for effort and participation in the class. Hot seating will encourage students' ownership by using authentic ideas, questions, and opinions. However, students themselves often range in topic from family background and everyday activities, to deeper through about life. University students suffer from implementing their vocabularies in the context and structure, so they need to enhance their confidence and conforming by practicing and using the verities of strategies.

From the description above, the researcher can conclude that the hot seat gives a great impact on the learning process of students. Hot seat has an important role in improving students' speaking skills in the classroom. Thus, the reseacher is interested in investigating the description above into a research entitled: "The Effect of Using Hot Seating Strategy in Enhancing Students Speaking Ability at SMA TARUNA MANDIRI Pekanbaru ".

B. The Problem

1. Identification of the Problem

Based on the background of the problems stated above, it is clear that some of the students of SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru are still having difficulties in learning English, especially in terms of achievement in learning English. Considering students' difficulties, there are many problems that can be investigated as follows:

- Some of students are poor and cannot use English in short conversation
- Some of students are shy to speak in an English-speaking class.
- Some of the students are lack of vocabulary.
- d. Some of the students are afraid of making mistakes when speaking in the class?

Limitation of the Problem

Many skills of English will provide many purposes too because different skill will give different benefit. There are four skills in English, such as, writing, reading, listening, and speaking. Thus, the researcher will limit this study on the effect of using hot seating strategy in enhancing students speaking ability in narrative text and second year at state SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru will be a sample of this research. Thus, another skills, text and others grades will not be investigated in this study.

Formulation of the Problem

Based on the limitation of the problem stated above, thus, the research questions are formulated in the following questions:

A. The Theoretical Framework

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

1. Definition of Speaking Skills

Speaking is a word with more than one meaning such as accuracy, fluency, encouragement, strength, feelings, ideas and communicative opinions. There are many definitions that explain speaking skills. Aglisty Nia (2011) says that," speaking is an interactive process of constructing meaning that involves producing, receiving, and processing information". Bryne (1998) says that, "speaking is a two-way process between speaker and listener and involves the productive skill of speaking and the respective skill of understanding". In the same respect, Nunan (2003) agrees with Bryne that "speaking is the productive oral skill and it consists of producing systematic verbal utterance to convey meaning". Also Mackey and Gass (2005) summarizes oral expression as follows: "Oral expressions involve not only the use of the right sounds in the right patterns of rhythm and intonation but also the choice of words and inflections in right order to convey the right meaning". Andryani (2012) adds that "speaking skill is the ability to speak target language to communicate with others that consists of accuracy, fluency, grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation and comprehensibility".

Speaking is an important factor for language acquisition. It is one of the four skills that needs to be mastered by everyone because by speaking, one is able to convey meaning, express feeling and to give opinion. Speaking is a speech production that becomes a part of daily activities which involve interaction.

The researcher has seen that speaking skills as the most important skills in language learning, and that gives an opportunity for learners to practice and employ vocabulary, speak fluently and arrange sentences and correct form which lead to the strong confidence of learners in finding the best activities to improve their academic and vocational levels.

According to these definitions, the researcher has defined the speaking skill as a process of building and sharing meaning through the use of a variety of contexts and it is a skill of comprehending, pronouncing, and being fluent and accur ate in suing grammar and vocabulary.

Elements of Speaking Skills

Speaking has involved, in a foreign language, several elements that speakers need to acquire in order to communicate effectively. For this reason, Janudom and Wasanasomsithi (2004)confirms that, "communicative competence must include not only the linguistic form of a language but also knowledge of when, how and to whom it is appropriate to use this form". However, the assessors as well as the EFL teachers are invited to take care of the following criteria in the student's performance:

a. Pronunciation

- 1) It is a thorny issue for language assessment. This because people tend to judge native/non-native speaker status on the basis of pronunciation.
- 2) Although vast numbers of language students learn to pronounce in a fully comprehensible and efficient manner, very few learners are capable of achieving a native-like standard in all respects. In a sequence, comprehensibility can be the criteria to be used in judging speaking skills.

b. Accuracy

Since accuracy is related to comprehensibility, it is often one aspect of pronunciation criterion. Luoma (2004) assures that, "it often includes speed, intonation, stress and rhythm" "interactional efficiency", it would encompass the students' use of stress and intonation to highlight important phrases and focus on expressiveness. Indicators to be taken into consideration:

- 1) Using correct pronunciation for both familiar and some unfamiliar words.
- 2) Using a variety of sentences.
- 3) Making few grammatical errors which do not interfere with the message.
- 4) Making good use of cohesive devices to connect ideas

c. Fluency

Nunan (2003) defines " fluency as the ease and speed with which a student is able to formulate and generate speech in the target language. It comes mainly through contextual speaking practice, not drilling with isolated words". It includes the following:

- Producing connected speech occasionally disrupted by hesitations as students search for correct form of expression.
- 2) Speaking fluently for an appropriate length of time.
- Responding and showing basic competencies which are needed for everyday life communication.
- 4) Elimination of translation and omission of filler words.

d. Grammar

Students' progress is often tracked according to the grammatical forms that they can produce accurately. Students are seen to proceed from knowing a few structures to knowing and utilizing more complex ones with making few mistakes. However, the grammar that is evaluated in assessing speaking should be related to the grammar of speech.

Another factor that affects the grammar of speech is the level of formality of the speaking situation. Situations involve planned speech tend to be relatively formal amattar which require more written like language with more complex grammar, whereas unplanned situations range from formal to informal situations.

Vocabulary

Luoma (2004) defines it as: "being able to express oneself precisely and providing evidence of the richness of one's lexicon". Using very simple and ordinary words naturally is likewise a marker of highly advanced speaking skills.

Spoken words contribute to the listener's impression of the speaker's fluency and keep the conversation going. Using of vague words such as 'thing' helps the speaker go on regardless of the missing word and at the same time they appeal to the listeners to understand and supply it if they can.

The researcher, in this study, has explained three types of speaking skills which are very important to get students have the ability to speak with skill beyond grammar errors and employ the largest number of vocabulary and the designed shape of the three skills fluency, vocabulary and grammar are defined, so skills will be addressed through the development of a scale for measuring the extent of owing student- teachers for speaking skills.

3. Principles of Teaching Speaking Skills

Teachers should follow limited principles for teaching speaking which may help them in designing the classroom activities and management. Kayi (2006) and Nunan (2003) suggest some principles that help in teaching speaking:

  - The teachers should provide written feedback like presentation was really great. It was a good job".
  - h. The teachers should correct students' pronunciation mistakes very often while they speak. Correction should not distract student from his or her speech.
  - The teachers should involve speaking activities not only in class but also out of class, contact parents and other people who can help.
  - The teachers should circulate around classroom to ensure that students are on the right track and see whether they need help or not while they work in groups or pairs.

4. Speaking Assessment at Senior High School

To know the students' achievement after they are treated by the video record, their speaking skill is measured by using five point scale, or known as FSI levels (because they were first advocated by the Foreign Service Institute in Washington, D.C.). There are five components which have rating range from 1-5 with different criteria (from the lowest to the highest). The components are grammar, vocabulary, comprehension, fluency, and pronunciation.

Brown (2003) in details explained the proficiency description of scoring oral ability, which comprised five aspects as in the following:

5. Definition of Hot Seating Strategy

Hot Seating strategy has been defined depending on their use in educational situations such as Billikova and Kissova (2013) definition. He defined it as " a verbal drama technique which can be used before or after role plays, short time provocations or © Hak cipta milik UIN Suska Riau short performance. It aims to understand characters' motives, background, feelings, personality and relationships to others".

Elise Wile (2013) says that, "hot seating is a vocabulary game that stimulates vocabulary at a rapid rate. Even shy students participate, because everyone gets a turn sitting in the hot seat. Everyone faces the teacher except for the student in the hot seat. The teacher writes a word on the board and students give clues to the student in the hot seat in an attempt to get the student to say the word". It is the use of the press conference format or something similar, students play the role of a character who sits in a seat in the center of the improvisation and answers questions that others have who are participating". Kathleen (2007, p. 78) says that, "Hot Seating is an activity where the students' performance as themselves, have the opportunity to question or interview a role player who remains in character".

According to Young, S. (2005) hot seat strategy is good for practicing asking and answering questions. It places the discussion in the hands of the students, with one student as the leader. It can be used at almost all levels of instruction, because the students will create questions at the proficiency level of the students. It can be used for both factual information and for sharing opinions

According to the above- mentioned definition, the researcher has defined the Hot Seating as an education game which gives a chance to students to practice and develop their abilities by participating with others in comfortable atmosphere without shyness and hesitation and that helps students and teachers to enhance speaking skills during practices.

Teaching Speaking by Using Hot Seating Strategy

Hot Seat Strategy can be used in enhancing students skills according to four stages: preparation, implementation, evaluation and follow-up (Afana, 1996; Najem, 2001; Al-Heela and Ghunaim, 2006; Al-Huwaidi, 2005). These stages can be summarized as follows:

- a. Preparation: in this stage, there are great responsibilities on teacher where they are supposed to know well all the domains of the game, material, rules, time-allotment and relation with curriculum or what the game may achieve, so that Hot Seat strategy needs to prepare place rules.
- b. Implementation: teachers introduce the game by connecting the subject of the lesson with the previous one in order to start the new lesson. Teachers have noticed the individual differences among the learners and maintained the aim of the game toward achieving while implementing the game in order to guide tem.
- c. Evaluation: teachers have disscussed the results of using the game and showed the benefits of the game. Teachers have to fix and organize the results clearly.
- d. Follow-Up: teachers follow-up learners to identify the acquired learning experience and provide them with some other games or activities to enrich their educational experience.

In addition, Sarah explains, for students who are eager for more speaking practice, using an interactive, conversational strategy like "Hot Seat" can give them opportunities to communicate authentically in English, to practice targeted grammatical structures or vocabulary, and to get to know eac other on a more personal level. Little preparation is required, particularly if the class learns and follows the hot seat routine on a regular basis. For students who have limited experience in the classroom, this student-led process os asking and answering questions, turn taking, clarifying misunderstandings, and taking responsibility for practicing English provides and exellent opportunity to learn classroom protocol and behaviors.

In this research, the writer taught speaking skills by using hot seat strategy. The procedure of hot seat strategy are :

Preparation:

a. To begin with, the teacher assumes the role of a character or subject and sits in the front of the class in specially designated chair called the Hot Seat. Teacher tell about rules, time-allotment and relation with lesson plan or what the game may achive.

Implementation:

  - d. Next, the teacher writes the text in a small papers and put the small papers in the box.
  - Teacher calls one of students to take the small papers in the box.
  - Teacher ask the student to open the small papers and ask students to sit to the Hot Seat.
  - Teacher ask students to retell the text in five minutes.

Evaluation:

h. Teacher showed the results and benefit of the game.

Follow-Up:

Teacher identify the acquired learning experience and provide them with some other games or activities to enrich their educational experience.

7. Benefits of Using Hot Seating in Teaching Speaking Skills

Hot seating strategy can be employed to serve various benefits. Borich (2014) mentions some benefits as:

- It helped other people know about the character.
- It created interest and it motivated participation in a class.
- c. It encouraged students to express their thoughts or ideas as well as to help them clarified their thoughts or ideas.

d. It helped to evaluate, diagnose, and check students preparation and understanding of the material as well as the students into the class knowledge.

Moore (2005) proposed that, "Hot Seating is a valuable tool that will achieve delivery of the learning goals". This was most immediately apparent in communication, language and literacy. Used language to imagine and recreate roles and experiences. Used to talk organize, sequence and clarified thinking, ideas, feelings and events. Sustain attentive listening, responding to what they had heard by relevant comments; questions or actions.

Trachtulcova (2007) adds some benefits of Hot Seating as follows: The activities of using Hot Seat encourages students to think of good arguments and then to use them convincingly. It changed the atmosphere in the class, and it transfers responsibility of learning from teacher to learner. It explored other subjects in language lessons, so that teachers can cover topics from other subjects, as the subjects about famous people in history.

According to prementioned benefits which mentioned above, the researcher had seen that Hot Seating can enhance speaking skills:

- a. It gave students self-confidence that got them to trust their ideas and abilities.
- b. It created wide imagination that gave students creative choices and thus thinking of new ideas.

Relevant Research

According to Syafi'i relevant research is required to observe some previous conducted by other researchers in which they are relevant to our research itself. Besides, we have to analyze what the point that is focused on inform the designs, finding and conclusion of the previous research, as in the following:

1. Research from Ziad Mohammad Elnada

In 2015 Ziad conducted a research entitled "The Effectiveness of Using Hot Seating Strategy on Enhancing Student-Teacher's Speaking Skills at Al-Azhar University-Gaza". This study aimed at investigating the effectiveness of using Hot Seating strategy on enhancing speaking skills for the student-teachers of English major at Al-Azhar University-Gaza. The researcher designed sessions of activities (dialogue, discussion, exchange creative ideas) related to speaking topics which carefully and purposely chosen to fit for discussions during the course of sessions. These activities were based on Hot Seating strategy which was used in teaching the study group. An oral speaking test was designed and validated as a pre and posttest. The results proved that there were statistically significant differences at  $(a \le 0.05)$  in the mean scores between the pre and post oral speaking test of the paired group in each level of speaking skills in favor of the posttest. In the light of those findings, the researcher recommended the necessity of carrying out training courses for teachers to promote the implementation of Hot Seating based teaching towards enhancing students' productive skills. And encouraging student-teachers to use peer-coaching, training and demonstration lessons to exchange different ideas and techniques of teaching different language skills through English contexts of situations.

. Research from Asri Rachmawati

In 2013 Asri conducted a research entitled "The Implementation of Hot Seat Technique as a Teaching Technique to Teach Spoken Descriptive Text to the Seventh Graders". hot seat game as a teaching technique to teach spoken descriptive text to the seventh graders and present the students' responses in implementation of hot seat game as a teaching technique to teach spoken descriptive text to the seventh graders. The result of this study showed hot seat technique could help the students to speak English more especially in describing an object. Hot seat could be applied in speaking class because this technique was effective to help students become effective in speaking English.

Operational Concept

Operational concept is a concept as a guidance used to avoid misunderstanding. It should be interpreted into particular words in order to make it easy to measure. The operational concept is the concept used to clarify the theories used in the research. There are two variables used in the research, they are variable X and variable Y. Hot Seating Strategy is as variable X that gives the effect on students' Speaking Ability as variable Y.

1. The using of hot seat strategy in teaching speaking as the independent variable, symbolized by "x".

Hot Seat can be used in enhancing student-teacher's speaking skills according to four stages: preparation, implementation, evaluation and follow up. This usage has its stages while application inside classrooms which are mentioned by Ziad Mohammad Elnada (2015). These stages can be summarized as follows:

Teacher asks students to imagine the characters that they have learned about in a recent lesson.

The subject of this research was the second-year students of SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru.

2. Object of the research

The object of this research was the effect of hot seat strategy on students' speaking ability.

Population and Sample

1. Population

University of Sultan Syarif Kasim

Cresswel (2012) stated that a population is agroup of individual who have the same characteristic. The population of this research was the tenth grade students of SMA Taruna Mandiri Pekanbaru. They consisted of three classes. The total number of population is 76 students.

2. Sample

The sample technique in this research is a cluster random sampling. Gay (2000:129) stated that cluster random sampling is sampling technique randomly select the groups, not individuals. All the members of selected groups have similar characteristics.

In this research, class XI IPA 1 as an Experimental Group was chosen and class XI IPA 2 as a Control Group.

Technique of Collecting Data

In collecting the data, the researcher used oral presentation test data. The procedure of test will be divided in two:

1. Pre – Test

lamic

University of Sultan Syarif Kasim

2. Post – Test

Post – test was used to collect data about students' speaking ability in narrative text. The test was be administered to both of classes after doing treatment.

The students' speaking ability would be recorded. Then, their speaking ability from pre – test and post - test will be assessed by two raters.

Technique of Analysis data

In analyzing the data, the researcher used statistical method that is independent samples t-test formula by using SPSS.23.0 version. It was used to find out whether there is difference between two groups. According to Pallant (2010), an independent samples t-test is used to compare the mean score, on some continuous variable, for two different groups of participants. So, the researcher used independent samples t-test to compare the mean score in two different groups; control class and experimental class.

After finding the difference, the researcher found out the effect size of the phenomenon. Pallant (2010) stated that effect size statistics provide an indication of the magnitude of the differences between your groups (not just whether the difference could have occurred by chance). The effect size statistic used in this research is eta squared. For t-test, SPSS does not provide eta squared values. The formula of eta squared is as follows:

$$\eta^2 = \frac{t^2}{t^2 + (n_1 + n_2 - 2)}$$

THE LEGEND OF SURABAYA

A long time ago, there were two animals, Sura and Baya. Sura was the name of a shark and Baya was a crocodile. They lived in a sea.

Once Sura and Baya were looking for some food. Suddenly, Baya saw a goat "Yummy, this is my lunch," said Baya. "No way! This is my lunch. You are greedy" said Sura. Then they fought for the goat. After several hours, they were very tired.

Feeling tired of fighting, they lived in the different places. Sura lived in the water and Baya lived in the land. The border was the beach, so they would never fight again.

One day, Sura went to the land and looked for some food in the river. He was very hungry and there was not much food in the sea. Baya was very angry when he knew that Sura broke the promise. They fought again.

They both hit each other. Sura bit Baya's tail. Baya did the same thing to Sura. He bit very hard until Sura finally gave up and went back to the sea. Baya was happy. (Adopted from FreeEnglishCourse.info)

THE STORY OF TOBA LAKE

Once upon a time, there was a man who was living in north Sumatra. He lived in a small hut in a farming field. The did some gardening and fishing for his daily life.

One day, while the man was do fishing, he caught a big golden fish in his trap. It was the biggest catch which he ever had in his life. Surprisingly, this fish turned into a beautiful princess. He felt in love with her and proposed her to be his wife. She said; "Yes, but you have to promise not to tell anyone about the secret that I was once a fish, otherwise there will be a huge disaster". The man made the deal and they got married, lived happily and had a daughter.

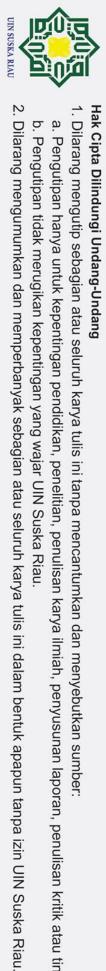

Few years later, this daughter would help bringing lunch to her father out in the fields. One day, his daughter was so hungry and she ate his father's lunch. Unfortunately, he found out and got furious, and shouted; "You damned daughter of a fish". The daughter ran home and asked her mother. The mother started crying, felt sad that her husband had broken his promise.

Then she told her daughter to run up the hills because a huge disaster was about to come. When her daughter left, she prayed. Soon there was a big earthquake followed by non-stop pouring rain. The whole area got flooded and became Toba Lake. She turned into a fish again and the man became the island of Samosir.
