others (Leech, 1983) because saying greetings was a prayer of kindness for the speaker's interlocutor.

2) Politeness by Female Students

Firstly for female, there was only one who uses the tact maxim as shown in the following table.

Female Student Using Tact Maxim

Student 1: Ini tugas saya

Adina dari X BDP

This was my assignment

Adina from X BDP

Here it looks very few who use tact maxim. In this study, it was proven that not many female collect assignments with short messages. In this case, a female student simply said that she had collected assignments, but the sentence was quite visible that students appreciate the task given by the teacher. So she did the task and submitted it. As said by Leech that tact maxim because it minimizes losses for others and maximizes benefits for others (Leech, 1983). By mentioning the name, the teacher does not bother anymore to find out who submitted the assignment

Secondly, quite a lot of female students use this generosity maxim. Among all the maxims, the generosity maxim was the most widely used. Half of the female students used the generosity maxim. 16 female students in this research, there were 8 female students who use the generosity maxim as shown in the table below.

That's my task ma'am

Student 9: Assalamualaikum miss, saya Cinta Adriantama dari XI MM 1, ini miss tugas saya hari ini

Assalamualaikum miss, I am Cinta Adriantama from XI MM 1, this was my assignment today

The presence of greeting at the beginning of the sentence when submitting assignments, it was appreciate from students to their teachers. The student of SMK Muhammadiyah 2 Pekanbaru was quite polite because most students use greetings when collecting assignments. The most important thing in this case was that students respect the teacher when the teacher gives an assignment and then collects the assignment. It was said that generosity maxim was because it prioritizes other people and maximizes benefits for others (Leech, 1983) because saying greetings was a prayer of kindness for the speaker's interlocutor.

Thirdly or the approbation maxim, there was one student who uses this maxim, for example: for the level of politeness in the approbation maxim, there was a woman student who uses it as the following table.

Female Students Using Approbation Maxim

Student 10: Assalamu'alaikum miss, ini tugas Indah Resky Ramadhani kelas X OTKP 1 miss,trimakasih miss

Assalamu'alaikum miss, this was Indah Resky Ramadhani's assignment, class X OTKP 1 miss, thank you miss

At the level of approbation maxim, it has been said that the student was polite and respects the teacher. It can be seen that the student greets at the beginning of the sentence, and then ends with a thank you to the teacher as an expression of gratitude for having been given a lesson so that the student was grateful to be able to do the assignment well. As noted in Leech's (1983) approbation maxim was 'minimize expressions of belief that express contempt for others; maximize the expression of beliefs that express the approval of others.' so the thank you said by the student was to make teacher feel good by showing solidarity.

Lastly, in the table below, the researcher will explain that there were 6 students who use the modesty maxim.

Female Students Using Modesty Maxim

Student 11: Assalamualaikum mis,ini tugas recount text Adinda

This was the task of Aulia Azzahara X otkp 1 miss

Student 13: Assalamualaikum miss ini tugas Wella dari awal, berhubung karna Wella murid baru di XI mm2 jadi saya ingin mengirim latihan yang sudah saya catat di buku miss, mohon diterima ya miss

Assalamualaikum miss, this was Wella's assignment from the beginning, because Wella was a new student in XI mm2 so I want to send the exercises that I have wrote in the book miss, please accept it, miss

Student 14: Assalamu'alaikum miss, ini tugas binggris puan ya

Maaf kirimnya udah kemalaman ya miss hehe

Assalamu'alaikum miss, this was Puan's English assignment, miss

Sorry for sending it too late, miss hehe

Student 15: Assalamu'alaikum miss, ini tugas latiahn Arsyah Nova, maaf lama mis tugasnya tadi gak kebaca di gc

Assalamu'alaikum miss, this was Arsyah Nova's assignment, sorry it took a long time, I was not read on the google classroom

Student 16: Assalamualaikum mis

Ini tugas B.inggris Alya Putri Syalwa Zakila, X OTKP 1 miss

Maaf telat ya mis

Assalamualaikum miss

This was Alya Putri Syalwa Zakila's English assignment, X OTKP 1 miss

Sorry I'm late to submit my assignment miss

It was pronounced that students who use the modesty maxim were polite. It was proven that there were students who ask their teachers to accept their assignments, the request was very polite. Then there were also students who apologize to the teacher if the student makes a mistake in her assignment. And there were also students who apologize to the teacher because she was a bit late in submitting assignments because of does not have internet network. This courtesy was reflected in the expression of messages sent by students to their teachers. In this case, it was clear that students use the modesty maxim by Leech (1983) because students maximize their self-dispraise and minimize their dispraise to others, seen from the student's apology to the teacher if the student made a mistake in doing their assignment.

From the previous explanation, the researcher concluded that in submitting their assignments, male only use two maxims, namely the tact maxim and the generosity maxim. While female were more varied in submitting assignment, some use the tact maxim, generosity maxim, approbation maxim, and some use the modesty maxim.
