1. Written comment of the Title:

-the title could be like this: Implementation of Lean Construction to Eliminate Waste: A Case Study Project Construction in Indonesia

2. Written comment on the Abstract and Keywords:

-the initial sentence of the abstract should be why is lean construction important to minimize waste?

3. Written comment on the Introduction (Importance of the topic, State of The Art (Gap Analysis), Objectives):

-You don't usually refer to 5 articles in 1 sentence. there should be a maximum of 3 references in 1 sentence.
- paragraph 3 need not be presented in the introduction. case studies should be presented in the methods section. you can present a case study in 2-3 sentences.

4. Written comment on the Methodology (Instrument, Proposed method/Hypothesis, data collecting and sample, data analysis):

-This section should explain how the proposed method works. The integration of each method should be clear explained. for example after PCE is calculated you calculate WRM? what is the integration of the two methods?
- the notations used in the equations must be clearly described.
- you also need to add subsection 2.6 data and case study. how many respondents are used for WRM? how to collect data from this research? this should be clearly explained. We don't want readers to understand what data this research uses

5. Written comment on the results and discussion:

-please add a managerial insight subsection. The managerial insights are still missing in the paper. Probably you need to present them in a separate section. While doing so, please emphasize the applicability of your framework in a real-life setting. What do your results recommend managers do?

1. Written comment of the Title:

title should be corrected.

2. Written comment on the Abstract and Keywords:

case studies need not be mentioned in the first sentence abstract. this should be mentioned in the methods section as a case study.

3. Written comment on the Introduction (Importance of the topic, State of The Art (Gap Analysis), Objectives):

-previous research descriptions are not good. Previous studies should outline the different methods used in completing LC.

4. Written comment on the Methodology (Instrument, Proposed method/Hypothesis, data collecting and sample, data analysis):

-you have to create a framework from the integration method used. The framework (in figure) describes the integration of methods used to solve LC problems.
- you also need to add subsection 2.6 data and case study. how many respondents are used for WRM? how to collect data from this research? this should be clearly explained. We don't want readers to understand what data this research uses.

5. Written comment on the results and discussion:

-In this section, the reviewer has not found a comparison of the results of this study with previous studies. you should explain this comparison.

6. Written comment on the conclusion (included future work):
