Dear Author

Your paper is accepted and will be published in the first of March issue of LRRD. Please remind me one week before publication date if you have not received the URL of the proof.

Please ensure in your final revision that you have followed exactly the instructions in notestoauthors. Remember the HTML version is a mirror copy of the original (edited) Word file so please ensure formatting and style are correct (eg: line spacing, headings, reference list). LRRD encourages the inclusion of photos in articles that contain topics that relate to different local or regional resources (vegetative and animal species, by-products, breeds/varieties), when these are used in the production systems that are the subject of the research. The sources of the photos should be indicated.

If you wish to change something, in view of the above, please revise and send again.

Please ensure your co-authors have all agreed to the final version. You will receive a link to a copy of the HTML version of the paper on the LRRD Proof Web site. This is to check that the proof reflects the final approved version. Only in special circumstances is it allowed to add or make changes to the proof.
